DERRY PUBLIC LIBRARY

For the first time in several years the library service has been uninterrupted by resignations of personnel.

Mrs. Lillian Jensen has been serving as assistant librarian and has rendered considerable assistance to the librarian in many ways in addition to her regular duties.

Miss Edith Hall continues to endeavor to render the highest type of library service. The reading public appreciates the many little services which are part of the library under her direction.

The facilities of the library have been used considerably by the residents of town. The reading public in Derry tends to have reading tastes that are commendable. The non-fiction books are in constant demand indicating that the library is functioning as an educative agency.

Increased cost of books has made it impossible to acquire as many new titles as is customary. Increased cost have made it impossible to effect the program of interior decorating that we had hoped to continue. During the next two or three years the exterior and interior of the library need to be painted. The exterior needs the protection of repainting. It will be true economy to do this portion of building maintainance as soon as possible.

The services of your library are available for recreation, study and research. The trustees urge you to make full use of the facilities. The courteous prompt service of librarian and assistant are responsible in part for the high standard of service rendered.

DERRY PUBLIC LIBRARY

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT

The 42nd annual report is herewith presented:

This year extra work has been done outside the regular routine. A much needed index file of short stories, plays pamphlets and music was added during the summer and early fall. This is proving a great help in our reference work.

A new 15 drawer catalog file has been added to the children's room equipment. Now all the children's books will be listed separately from the adult list. This has relieved the congestion of cards in the main file catalog. I am sure it will be an improvement over the old method of listing all books under one main catalog.

A School library was started at the Floyd school. Now all of our school children may have the advantage of reading library books. So many of the bus children live so far out that they cannot come to the library. These books, for all grades, were sent to the school early in the fall. They may be kept until the end of the school year. Then be returned for checking and repairing.

This new school library is very popular with the children. 629 books have been read during the last 2 months. The usual boxes of books have been placed in the other school rooms for the use of the teacher and children.

Polio closed our children's room for nearly 4 weeks. This lowered our junior circulation for the summer. It also affected our school boxes. Books were not sent to the schools as early and the children were a little slow in getting back into the habit of reading.

Our inventory showed a decided drop in losses this year. Only 10 books missing from the shelves. We hope next year will be a "gold star" year without a single missing book.

The loss of books in circulation also dropped, only 5 books failed to return during the entire year.

This year the New Hampshire Library Association meeting joined the New England Library Conference. This meeting was held at the New Ocean House, Swampscott, Mass. Your librarian was in attendance for the entire session.

Picture exhibits have been loaned to other libraries. An exhibit of Currier and Ives reproductions was loaned to the Derry Woman's Club.

Your librarian had the honor of serving, for the past year, as editor of the New Hampshire Library Association News Letter. This is a library publication printed 4 times a year.

Miss Ruth Stimson, Home Demonstration Agent, of the University of New Hampshire Extension work, was invited to hold meetings in the library. So far 2 very successful meetings have been held here. On November 22nd, 40 interested people from Derry and surrounding towns came to the library, on a rainy afternoon, to hear Professor Kalin speak on Christmas decorations. Other meetings will be held in the near future.

During the past year your librarian was guest speaker at the Parent Teachers meeting in February, the Methodist church and the Derry Woman's club in November, at the later meeting spoke on the subject "Know your Library."

Book Week was fun week for the Derry school children. The 4 upper grade children came to the library for story telling by records. The story being "Treasure Island." The lower grade children were more interested in Mother Goose and Cinderella. The youngsters were permitted to sing and act out the songs. The recording machine was loaned by Mrs. Jensen, assistant librarian. While the records were loaned by the State Library and the Radio shop. Many new books were displayed as well as gay picture and posters appropriate for Book Week.

Transcribed Christmas Carols were heard daily during the holiday season. These programs were enjoyed by adults and children alike.

Mrs. Lillian Jensen has been a very fine assistant during the past year. It is her desire to attend the next summer session of New Hampshire Library School as she wishes to continue her work with us.

We wish to thank all who have contributed books, decorations, plants, pictures and newspaper publicity the past year. Also thanks are due the Derry Electric Co. for the use of their show window for book exhibits during Book Week.

TAYLOR LIBRARY

Report of the Trustees of the Taylor Library

At the annual meeting of the trustees held in May, Miss Mabel Berry was reappointed Librarian. She has been ably carrying on the work of the Library and in recognition of this and in consequence of higher living costs was given a modest increase in salary. Harold Hamilton was elected chairman, this position being vacant due to the death of Winslow Emerson the preceding year.

All the outside woodwork of the Library and the fence were painted early in the fall. Because of anticipated difficulty in obtaining janitor service during the winter it was decided to have an oil burner installed in the hot-air furnace. Beside eliminating the uncertainty of the heating problem it would permit maintaining some heat in the building during non-occupancy periods which should tend to preserve better the books, furniture and interior. This installation was made the last week in December. Sufficient operating service has not yet been experienced to report finally on its results, but initial operation gives promise of materially improved heating conditions.

The reports of the Librarian and Treasurer follow.

TAYLOR LIBRARY LIBRARIAN'S REPORT

To the trustees of Taylor Library the following report for the year ending December 1946 is respectfully submitted:

The normal activities of the library were carried on and an attempt to have the books called for by the school children for their supplementary reading and also those adults using the list for Adventure in Reading which is compiled by the Congregational Christian Conference.

Book week was observed with special posters and an enticing display of new books for children.

Aside from the regular patrons there were a few summer transients.

The library kept its usual hours, Tuesday and Saturday afternoons from 2:00 to 5:00 and Tuesday evening from 7:00 to 8:00 and Saturday evening from 7:00 to 9:00.

There were 104 library days.

A REPORT TO THE VOTERS OF THE DERRY SCHOOL DISTRICT

The school board fully recognizing the inadequacy of our present physical school facilities have refrained from calling attention to the situation due to the war period we have just past through with its limitations of labor and materials.

The elementary housing has been for the past several years inadequate from many points of view in two of the three large schools.

The inadequacy which seems most serious is that of safety. The buildings are wooden frame structures whose original appearance has been considerably altered by alterations and additions. The exits while adequate in number can be reached only by stairs of a combustible nature. Temporary measures to make the buildings safer have been used but the buildings are still far from safe by modern standards.

The second serious inadequacy which affects the health of children especially eyesight is the lack of proper lighting by modern standards. Again most of the classrooms have either inadequate lighting or improper lighting. The condition is somewhat alleviated by artificial lighting. The modern standards set up for artificial lighting are not met by the present arrangements.

The buildings although structurally sound from an engineering point of view are noisy and lack many of the requisites of a modern elementary school plant. No suitable place of assembly is present in any building. The facilities for preparation and serving of school lunch are inadequate. The rooms lack convenience outlets for use of modern equipment, such as the audio-meter, sound projector, record player and radio. Use of several extension cords is a make shift arrangement that nullifies in some instances the results obtained.

The health, safety, and educational progress of the pupils of Derry would be enhanced undoubtedly by a long range program of school housing.

On recommendation of the superintendent the school board requested the Derry Teachers to appoint a salary committee prior to Jan. 1, 1947. The function of this committee was to prepare a tentative salary schedule as a working basis from which a salary schedule could be established. Some progress has been made towards the establishment of such a schedule as a result of several meetings which began Jan. 6, 1947. To arrive at a satisfactory salary schedule requires time. In approaching the problem the minimum for 1947-48 was established at $1,800. This involves the following raises:

6 @ 350.00

3 @ 400.00

1 @ 500.00

These obvious needs are brought to your attention so that you may consider the solution which may shortly become even more pressing if Derry school enrollments follow the anticipated national trend.

Personnel

One characteristic of the schools of the country, generally, for the past five years has been a rapid turn over in teaching personnel. Many factors have contributed to this phenomenon but the two outstanding factors have been the social and economic status of the teacher. The more important of the two is without doubt the economic one. In the past three years the total number of teacher changes in the district has been

31. Since the total teaching staff is 23 that means that in effect more than the whole staff has been replaced. Of these changes 15 has been due almost entirely to the economic factor. In face of this fact the problem of securing professionally trained personnel has been a serious one. The enrollments at the teacher training institutions (Keene & Plymouth) at the elementary level are only a small fraction of the number of replacements needed. In the light of past experience and the number of enrollees the situation will continue to be serious. The district was fortunately able to secure the services of trained teachers to fill all existing vacancies. For the first time in several years the Derry Junior High School was staffed with graduates of 4 year professional schools. The elementary positions were all filled with teachers of training and experience. To secure 10 teachers of training and experience under present conditions was extremely fortuitous. The condition will be alleviated to some extent if the economic factor is adequately solved.

Curriculum

The second factor which affects the educational progress of the children of the district is the quantity and quality of available teaching aids. Ordinary supplies (paper, workbooks and text books, maps, charts, exhibits and all other forms of visual aid material contribute to the educational progress. Increased costs have made it impossible to increase the number of available supplementary texts materially. The past year the science books at junior high have been built up to the point where the condition of shortage which has existed has been largely eliminated. Additional readers have been provided several grades. The increased enrollment in grade one required additional book purchases which eliminated the possibility of fulfilling some of the previously planned purchases. Increased cost of books also cut down the possibility of acquisitions.

The needs of the schools in the book field are many and varied. The basic texts are for the most part in good condition. There are certain definite needs but the greatest need is the establishment of supplementary facilities. The normal range of abilities in any given grade is a minimum of four years. To accommodate for the range of abilities and interests represented requires the availability of many texts. This need we have not been able to meet but slightly. Necessary financial support to build such supplementary libraries may become available if legislation now pending becomes an actuality.

The available maps, charts, globes and other visual materials are limited. These items are expensive and in the field of geography particularly the chaotic conditions make it seem advisable to proceed slowly.

The acquisition of a sound 16mm projector makes it possible to bring additional materials to the classroom. Scheduling was somewhat difficult due to the fact that film libraries were booked heavily before the arrival of the machine. A regular program can be worked out for the school year 1947-48.

The necessary funds for the purchase of the machine were the result of the cooperative efforts of pupils of all schools during the war period. Sale of waste paper and milk weed pods collected by pupils made possible the purchase.

The normal supplies were available in quantity but at increased costs. Purchases were fortunately made prior to price increases at a saving to the district. Certain items (pencil sharpeners and desks particularly) are still hard to obtain but the market is gradually becoming a little freer.

The curricula materials are at present based on the currently available courses of study. The curriculum is and has been in the process of being broadened. The demands of the scientific age require a broader more fundamental knowledge of science. The inclusion of properly graded science materials will assist in the reading program as well as providing a scientific background. As indicated in previous reports the extension of a physical education program under proper supervision with more thorough physical examinations and use of corrective measures for remedial defects is another area in which we have not made a serious beginning. Art has been woefully neglected. With the increase of leisure time more and more the necessity of developing a vocational interest is becoming a need of the times. Special emphasis on penmanship too is a need in the fundamentals field.

Activities

The opportunity for many and varied activities in all grade levels is limited by physical plant. Thus far the usual special day programs, musical programs, socials, athletics at junior high level, prize speaking and graduation are the whole of our program. The use of halls outside the school buildings prevents a more extensive and varied program from being adopted. Intramural games below junior high, folk and social dancing, direct contributions to programs of child and youth organizations, development of special skills, overcoming special disabilities are all activities that could properly contribute to the education of our children.

Enrollments

A study of enrollments for the past 35 years at 5 year intervals reveals that 30 years ago the peak enrollment of 859 was reached. This enrollment was followed by a gradual recession until the low of 683 was reached in 1937. Since that date the enrollment figures have gradually climbed until in June 1946 the enrollment of 754 was reached. The figure as of Jan. 31st for the current year was 767. It would seem, therefore, that the number of elementary pupils will increase for the next several years. The national statistics bear this out and a graphical representation shows a definite upward trend.

Finances

The proposed budget shows the cumulative effect of postponment of increased teacher salaries. This condition is not peculiar to Derry but is state and nation wide. The overall budget shows an increase of 20,106.13. An analysis of the budget reveals that two items, teachers salaries and high school tuition, account for 16,385.00 of the total increase. Both are directly connected with salary increases. The liability of the district for high school tuition is based on the state average instructional cost in high school. The salaries of instructional staff is the major item of 5 that make up this figure. An examination of district liability based on the state average is almost self explanatory.

1941-42	89.79
1942-43	100.78
1943-44	107.46
1944-45	114.59
1945-46	123.79

Over the five year period represented the average increase has been $44 per pupil. The increased salary load of the current year will, it is anticipated, increase the tuition rate more than any previous single year.

Teachers' salaries, the other major item of increase, is commonly over the state rising in the same ratio as in the proposed budget. A comparison of per pupil costs would indicate that this figure is still in line. The State Ave. elementary school costs contrasted with the district's reveals that even this increase does not place the district's cost at an excessive figure.

	State Ave.	Derry
1940-41	84.61	67.87
1941-42	86.74	71.05
1942-43	94.25	72.41
1943-44	102.07	77.74
1944-45	112.29	76.48
1945-46	Not available	Est. 75.67
1946-47	Not available	Est. 82.11
1947-48	Not available	Est. 103.65

The balance of the increase is distributed over 13 other items. Due to an estimated increase in income the tax levy is increased 18,510.84. In addition article 11 of the Warrant calls for $1,800. for salary adjustments.

The pending legislation on revision of state aid statutes may make a considerable difference in succeeding tax levies if passed by the legislature. For the present, however, the proposed budget can not be predicated on the future acts of the legislature.

The progress of pupils in your schools as indicated in objective test results is and has been satisfactory. That this is true is a fair commentary on the cooperation of all concerned with the operation of the schools. Parents, pupils, teachers and school board, all assume their responsibilities and work harmoniously to achieve this result. To work with all these groups in an effort to achieve satisfactory educational progress is both pleasurable and profitable.

The enrollment at the school has definitely reflected the national trend in the past 5 years. The accompanying figures reveal it quite clearly.

	Ave. Memb.	Per Pupil Costs
1941-42	29.610	139.33
1942-43	22.707	181.66
1943-44	34.439	123.69
1944-45	40.991	99.84
1945-46	49.187	Not available

Since 1943 the enrollment has more than doubled and as a result the per pupil cost has decreased. This trend will probably continue for several more years if the statistics of the U. S. Bureau of Census are a reliable criteria since nationally the number of births has mounted continuously.

The school housing problem will not be critical, however, since the two rooms can accommodate more pupils. There may be a need for a helping teacher if the primary room enrollment mounts too greatly.

As the enrollment increases the needs of the pupils present problems that can be met only by providing the teacher with additional teaching aids. Library facilities, work books, visual aids of several types, and increased number and variety of texts especially in the fields of social and natural science will enable the school to provide for both the variety of interests and the varying abilities of pupils.

Increased enrollments also require additional equipment for the recreational needs of the children. Fortunately the market in this area has loosened considerably so that it has been possible to acquire during the present year some basic materials notably play ground balls that have not been available for several years.

The available level play area may need to be enlarged so as to provide adequate space. The hilly terrain limits to some extent the possibilities in this field. In addition a revision of the time table to stagger recesses of the two rooms may be necessary to provide adequate room even though all other media are utilized.

Financial Support

The state department recognizing certain educational needs and cognizant of the increased burden imposed on real property have proposed a revision of the state aid law. The primary purpose of this proposed revision is to provide additional educational facilities without increasing the local tax burden. The interim commission report also is proposing a plan whereby the cost of education will be spread over a wider base. The program is dependent on legislative action and its effect will not be noticed locally until a year hence as far as finances are concerned. Certain educational facilities may be improved or increased with state monies. The budgets over the past five years are as follows:

1942-43	7,053.44
1943-44	7,080.44
1944-45	7,072.07
1945-46	7,342.28
1946-47	8,534.47
1947-48	9,909.00

The increased costs are 40% of the budget of 42-43 in a period which has seen the enrollment more than doubled, increased costs of supplies and books, tuition rates increased, and the cost of all services both professional and lay materially advanced. The budget for 1947-48 calls for an increase over 1946-47 which is practically all found in teachers salaries, books and supplies and elementary and high school tuition. All of these items call for an increase of $1,099 so that all other budgetary items are responsible for only $275.53. Retirement appropriations account for approximately 1/3 of this. If pending legislation on state aid becomes law the district will receive an amount in excess of $4,000.00.

Personnel

The district is exceedingly fortunate to have had the services of Mrs. Alice Follansbee over the past few years. Her conscientious, painstaking efforts have meant much to the boys and girls of the district. The educational progress of each individual pupil is her concern and the value to the pupils is immeasurable.

The resignation of Mrs. Frances Smith was accepted with regret. Fortunately the district was able to secure the services of Miss Josephine Stewart, a primary teacher of experience. The work of both rooms under these teachers is progressing satisfactorily.

The school board and superintendent have kept maintainance at a minimum commensurate with sound building maintainance. Some consideration of a program of painting both exterior and interior of the plant may require special appropriations to meet the need.

Books and supplies have been provided so that each pupil can progress in accord with his ability. The use of books from the library has augmented the regular class room supply.

The efforts of all, school board, teachers, pupils and parents has made it possible to render service to the pupils. The cooperation of all these agencies of the school make for pleasant and efficient service.

Respectfully submitted

Everton H. Parkinson
